Dear Mr. Martinez,

I have known John Donovan since 1991. We have co-founded Cambridge Technology Partners, and he was a colleague at MIT.

John is an excellent teacher, mentor, and a person who has added value to many organizations.

I have known him as a person of high integrity, who always delivers on his word. He was been an inspiration and mentor to all of his employees, including my wife. Many people have benefited greatly from working with John.

His academic credentials of fundamental text books, papers in the field of operating systems are widely read and lauded, his research in computers and technology are part of the fundamental literature in those fields.

I highly recommend him for an appointment at your school.

Sincerely,

Rakesh Khurana
